CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arise the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again immediately.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 5s., and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right of the seller or his agent to bid, or else to impose a reserve.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10s. in the pound or more, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money; in default of which the lot or lots purchased may be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. All lots are sold as shown and with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. act as agents; they have full discretion to refuse any bidding or to withdraw any lot or lots from the sale without in either case giving any reason; they are not responsible for errors of description or for genuineness or authenticity of any lot or for any fault or defect in it, and make no warranty whatever
- VI. The lots to be taken away at the buyer's risk and expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if the same are lost, stolen, damaged or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser, and subject to a charge for warehousing. If, at the expiration of Two Days after the conclusion of the sale, the lots are not cleared or paid for, they may then be sold immediately, either publicly or by private treaty, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VII Upon failure of the buyer to comply with any of the above conditions, the money deposited in part-payment shall be forfeited; and the defaulter at this sale shall make good to Messrs. SOTHEBY & Co. any loss arising from the re-sale, together with their charges and expenses in respect of both sales.
To prevent confusion no purchases can be claimed or removed during the sale.

Messrs. SOTHEBY & CO are prepared to execute bids, and in addition to advise intending purchasers as far as possible, if requested by them to do so, without making any charge for either service. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

GREEK VASES,

The Collection of the late Sir Wilfred Peck, Bt.

[SOLD BY ORDER OF THE EXECUTORS].

- 180 A black-figured Amphora, $18\frac{3}{4}$ in. high, unbroken. On the obverse, the apotheosis of Herakles; the hero, clad in a himation, stands in a four-horse chariot, with Athena by his side holding the goad in her hand; in front of the chariot are Apollo, playing the cithara, and Hermes; behind it Dionysos, and facing Athena, Hera and Ares. On the reverse of the vase two warriors are leading two women away, and a man and a youth are looking on; good Attic work of about 550 B.C. [Pl. IV]
- 181 Another, $19\frac{3}{4}$ in. high, mended. On the obverse, a warrior and his driver in a four-horse chariot, ready to start, attended by two wives, a warrior, a man and a dog. On the reverse, Ajax the son of Oileus is attacking Cassandra, represented as a very young girl, at the statue of Athena; the scene is completed by a warrior and a woman. This vase is published by Gerhard in Auserlesene Vasenbilder, pl. 228, 1-2; good Attic work of about 550 B.C. [Pl. IV]
- 182 Another, $18\frac{1}{4}$ in. high, intact and in fine preservation. On the obverse, Herakles, naked, is wrestling with the Nemean lion; Athena is at hand, and Iolaos stands by, wearing corslet and sword, and carrying the hero's club; the bow of Herakles, his quiver, his sword, and his cloak, fill the field above the central group. On the reverse, Dionysos, holding a drinking-horn and branches of vine and ivy, stands in the middle, with two satyrs dancing round him; remarkably excellent Attic work of about 530 B.C. [Pl. V]
- 183 A black-figured Amphora of Panathenaic shape, $19\frac{3}{4}$ in. high, mended, and the lower parts of three figures missing, but the rest in fine condition. On the obverse, Athena in the usual attitude with raised spear, is accompanied by Hermes holding his caduceus; the device on the shield is a tripod; on each side of the pair is a column with a cock on it. On the reverse of the vase a race is represented: three youths running. This vase is published by Gerhard in Etruskische und campanische Vasenbilder, pl. A, 18; good Attic work of about 550-530 B.C.

- 184 A black-figured neck Amphora, $16\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, mended. The obverse shows Herakles and Apollo struggling for the tripod, with Leto encouraging Apollo, and Hermes seated watching. On the reverse, two warriors and a woman; Attic work of about 520 B.C. [Pl. VI]
- 185 A black-figured Amphora, $15\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, mended. On the obverse, two warriors attack each other and a man rushes between them as if to separate them. On the other side, Herakles is in conflict with the Amazons. This vase is attributed by Beazley (Journal of Hellenic Studies, 1927, p. 83, no. 10) to the Antimenes painter; Attic work of about 520 B.C.
- 186 Another, 17 in. high, mended. On the obverse, a warrior stands in his chariot, his driver beside him, ready to set out; his wife and son stand at the horses' heads. On the reverse, a warrior is arming; he lifts his leg to adjust his greave, a woman faces him holding his spear and his shield (device a sword); his helmet is on the ground; his companion is already armed; Attic work of the later part of the 6th Cent. B.C.
- 187 Another, $16\frac{1}{4}$ in. high, mended. On the obverse, a wedded pair, probably Peleus and Thetis, in a chariot, attended by Apollo, who plays the cithara, Hermes and a goddess. On the reverse, a maenad and three satyrs; Attic work of the later part of the 6th Cent. B.C.
- 188 Another, $16\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, mended, with patches of the pictures missing; the foot is ancient but does not belong. On the obverse, a scene from the gigantomachy: Poseidon attacks the giant Polybotes, with his trident in his right hand and on his left shoulder a huge boulder representing the island of Nisyros; two more giants complete the picture. On the reverse, a woman stands between two warriors, perhaps Helen between Menelaos and Agamemnon; Attic work of about 500 B.C.
- 189 Another, 18 in. high, mended. On the obverse, Herakles is fighting with the three-bodied giant Geryon; one of the three bodies has collapsed. On the obverse, Dionysos attended by two maenads dancing and playing the castanets; bold Attic work of about 500 B.C. [Pl. VII]
- 190 A black-figured Lekythos of old-fashioned shape, $10\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, mended. The subject is Herakles wrestling with the Nemean lion, in presence of two youths; Attic work of the third quarter of the 6th Cent. B.C.
- 191 A black-figured Oinochoe, 8 in. high, the lip mended and the handle modern, with a picture of Herakles fighting the Amazons; Attic work of about 500 B.C.

- 192 A black-figured Hydria, $17\frac{1}{2}$ in. high with the handle, mended, and parts of two figures missing. The main picture represents women at the fountain ; one woman has set down her hydria to fill at the lion-head spout ; her pad is on her head, and she has brought a wreath to deck the building ; the other five women hold wreaths or flowers as well as their hydriae. The subsidiary picture on the shoulder of the vase shows a man seated with women and youths about him ; neat Attic work of about 520 B.C.
- 193 Another, 18 in. high with the handle, mended. The main picture represents Herakles and Cerberus ; the hero advances towards the two-headed hound, and pats one of the noses ; Hermes makes a sign to Herakles, and Athena stands by ; to the left, the porch of the palace of Hades is indicated by a column with epistyle, and Persephone is standing in the porch. The shoulder-picture is a fight, with two women looking on, and two horsemen. The inscription reads Φίλω[ν καλ]ός. Mentioned by Beazley in Journal of Hellenic Studies, 1927, p. 64, note 7 ; good Attic work of about 525 B.C. [Pl. VII]
- 194 Another, $19\frac{1}{2}$ in. high with the handle, mended, and a patch missing. The main picture shows four horsemen standing beside their horses ; each man wears a short cloak and a petasus. The shoulder-picture gives a fight in three groups. Below the main picture, a lion and a boar between palmettes. Good Attic work of about 520 B.C.
- 195 A red-figured Hydria, 16 in. high, mended. Apollo is standing, with his cithara, at his altar, attended by two women, perhaps muses, one of whom holds a phiale and a jug, the other a spray of laurel and a phiale from which she pours a libation ; the fourth figure is Hermes, his caduceus held downwards by the crook, his right hand raised to his beard ; part of the breast and arm of Apollo, and parts of the right-hand muse's garment, are missing. This vase is published by Gerhard in Auserlesene Vasenbilder, pl. 30, and attributed by Beazley in Attische Vasenmaler, p. 336, no. 35, to the Altamura painter ; Attic work of about 460 B.C. [Pl. VI]
- 196 A red-figured Stamnos, $15\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, mended, and the surface impaired. On the obverse, a young warrior leaving home, holding a phiale for the parting libation ; a woman facing him holds the jug to fill the phiale, an old man watches, and a light-armed youth is ready to accompany the hoplite. Inscription, twice, Καλος. On the reverse, a man between two women ; Attic work of about 430-420 B.C.

The Property of Glyn Philpot, Esq., R.A.

- 197 A black-figured Amphora, $21\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, mended, with some repainting. On the obverse, Athena mounting her chariot, attended by Hermes, Herakles and a goddess. On the reverse, a youth, wearing a Thracian cloak, sets out on horseback, with a spare horse beside him; behind him, a woman bidding him farewell, and a hoplite; facing him, a hoplite and an archer side by side; Attic work of the end of the 6th Cent. B.C.
- 198 Another, $18\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, intact, but the whites retouched. On the obverse, a warrior mounts his chariot, while the charioteer holds the reins; an old man, and two warriors, look on. On the reverse, four women fighting over a fallen warrior; Attic work of about 530 B.C. [Pl. VIII]
- 199 A red-figured Oinochoe, 13 in. high, the handle re-attached, otherwise intact. Poseidon, trident in hand, receiving a libation from a woman; in her right hand she holds the phiale, in her left a flower. Inscriptions, Καλός, Καλή; Attic work of the middle of the 5th Cent. B.C.

- 211 A FRAGMENT OF STONE CARVING, $9\frac{1}{2}$ in. by $9\frac{1}{2}$ in., representing two bearded figures ascending a slope, in front are the remains of the figure of an Assyrian soldier wearing the characteristic tunic and fasciae; from the palace of Sargon, at Kouyunjik, before 700 B.C., enclosed in a wooden case, lined with velvet and glazed, with descriptive label of ivory
- 212 A stone Slab, 2 ft. 5 in. by 1 ft. 10 in., with a cuneiform inscription relating to a procession of gods to the festival house of Ashur in the reign of Sennacherib; Assyrian, c. 700 B.C.
- 212A A SCULPTURED PORTION OF AN ANCIENT BABYLONISH BOUNDARY STONE, finely carved in low relief with figures of Babylonish divinities (Marduk, Nuski and others), together with representations of their temples and with inscriptions in finely cut cuneiform characters; similar boundary stones are to be found in the British Museum and in the Louvre, they are otherwise of the utmost rarity; limestone, $4\frac{1}{4}$ in. high, $9\frac{1}{2}$ in. wide; Babylonish of the reign of Marduk-nadin-akhi, c. 1100 B.C.

INDIAN ANTIQUITIES, ETC.

- 213 A GANDHARA CARVING in horn-blende schist, part of a frieze with the subject of Buddha's First Sermon in the deer park at Isipatana, near Benares, the master seated in an alcove formed by tree branches, on either hand a female representative of the Devas sits in a raised position, on his right an ascetic is prostrating himself in adoration, and on his left three other ascetics are advancing to listen, 5 in. high, 12 in. wide; from the Swat Valley

- 214 Vishnu, a crude stone carving which has been a village deity, he is four armed with the usual insignia, wears a tiara and long necklace, and stands under an ornamental arch, $14\frac{1}{2}$ in. high, $8\frac{1}{4}$ in. wide
- 215 Bust of a young Roman, perhaps Antinous. The locks of hair falling over the wide forehead, the full lips and the pose of the head appear to justify the attribution, though the treatment of the hair is of Augustine character. Restored: nose and part of upper lip and right shoulder. The left breast and shoulder are antique, but probably do not belong, 26 in. high

Another Property.

- 216 A Roman terra cotta Lamp, with design of gladiators, inscribed L. SARENI ; a Greek Lekythos, figure design ; a plain unglazed Cup, in terra cotta, Roman ; and a quantity of Egyptian Amulets, in pale glaze 4
- 217 Five Assyrian Beads from Nimrud, one with shell design, rare ; a Babylonian Clay Tablet, first dynasty of Ur ; and a String of early bone Beads interspersed with animals' teeth
- 218 A carved wood Figure of a High Ecclesiastical Functionary supporting figure of Christ, German, 17th century ; a terminal Figure of a Saint in carved wood, 16th century ; and four silver Spoons 6
